Westminster Village Resident Spotlight

“After driving past Westminster Village almost daily for over eleven years, then spending a month in rehab at Westminster’s CooperVista, I knew where I wanted to spend my remaining years. This is one of the most beautiful campuses you’ll find anywhere. I love the staff, the way they take care of all my needs. I don’t have to worry anymore whose going to take care of “what” or “when.” I just call the Front Desk, they send someone up to take care of it. After being here over a year and a half, I can’t be more pleased than I am right now, sitting here at my desk; in my nice cozy apartment, with my morning coffee and the sun coming in my windows, what more could I ask for? I am secure, well fed, and everyone is very friendly. I even mention my love for Westminster on my Facebook page. There truly is something for everyone. Come, join our family. I think you’ll like it!”

Carol Salian was born and raised in Delaware County, graduating from Gaston High School. She spent most of her adult life in California, attending Moorpark and Ventura Colleges. She returned “home” in 2007. She says, “once a Hoosier, always a Hoosier!” After Carol’s husband, Jack, passed away, and she was no longer a Real Estate Broker, she felt that she wanted to be near family, so Carol moved back to Muncie.

CCRC: Myth vs Fact

Myth: “I’m too young to live with “old people”!

Fact: Age is just a number. There is no magic age when it comes to choosing a senior living community. When the subject comes up at Westminster Village, many residents say that they wished they had made the move when they were younger. They are busier and more active at Westminster than they were living at home due to having more opportunities at hand. The culture at Westminster Village is a diverse
